Hope swells for recycling project

By Janice Harrington

Prospects are looking up for organizers and supporters of the Didsbury recycling project.

Start up of operations for the project is anticipated by sometime in January thanks to concrete support of the project by the Didsbury Town Council.

The Didsbury Lions, who created the project and will manage it when it becomes operational, are ready to proceed now that they have the necessary backing of town council said President Brian Banfield.

"We are quite confident about the project (taking off) now," he said. "Now we have the real backing of the town."

The "real backing" is a commitment from the town to construct a building to house the project.

Town council is currently preparing a borrowing by-law for $30,000 to cover costs to erect the building which will enclose baling and sorting equipment needed for the project. Town administrator Mike Storey said council was in favor of the debenture because the $3,500 annual cost of repayment would likely be covered by the annual savings of garbage dumping.

"We are also looking into applying for grants to cover this capitol cost as well," Storey said.

The building will be constructed on town shop land on the north side of town near the bottle depot.

"Even if the recycling project doesn't go," Storey said, "we will still have the building to use for our own needs or to lease out. So we are in a good situation either way."

Council is undertaking housing for the project under an agreement reached with the Lions this fall. The town had originally applied for a capitol grant to build the warehouse, but was turned down by Alberta Environment, creating fears that the project might not be able to proceed.

But with the town's commitment to supply a home for the project, the Lions expect grant money for the purchase of the required equipment will now be released by the province.

"We've heard nothing official on that," said Banfield. "But we are hearing some very nice noises."

In the meantime, the Lions are also working on cooperative arrangements for recycling with other municipalities.

Didsbury recycling project coordinator Russ Croft said he has attended meetings with other Lions clubs in the area and discussions are continuing on the idea of sharing some facets of the operation.

"It would cost too much for us to share one central type of recycling depot," Croft said.

Icy roads blamed for fatality

By Janice Harrington

Icy roads are being blamed for a fatal car crash last week which claimed the life of a Cremona teenager.

Ryan Corrie, age 16, was killed last Tuesday when his car collided with a truck approximately 3 km west of Didsbury on Highway 582.

Didsbury RCMP said Corrie's car, a 1981 Pontiac Acadia, collided with a 1979 Freightliner truck around 5 p.m. Tuesday night. A passenger in the car, 17-year-old Andrew Myram, also of Cremona, was seriously injured in the crash and was taken to the Mountain View Health Care Centre and later transferred by ambulance to the Bow Valley Centre in Calgary. He remains in critical but stable condition.

STARS air ambulance could not get to the accident site due to poor weather conditions.

The driver of the truck, Harvey Alan Reid, age 37, of Cremona, was not injured.

I got a chain letter this week. I have no idea who sent it; the address was typewritten, there was no return and I don't recognize the postal code. The letter begins by saying that with love all things are possible and that this letter has been sent to me for good luck. If I send 20 copies to friends I will receive "Good Luck" in 4 days. This sounds stupid but harmless, then we get into the bad stuff. "Jon Elliot received $40,000 and lost it because he broke this chain." "Nolan Fairchild threw this letter away, 9 days later he died." "While in the Philippines, Gene Welsh lost his wife 6 days after receiving this letter, however before her death he received $7,773,000." I don't know what his being in the Philippines has to do with the story and was losing his wife part of his good luck? How did he lose her, on a bus? How long had they been married? Did he like his wife? Are we to suppose that the $7,773,000 made up for her loss? Maybe the shock of his receiving $7,773,000 is what killed her!

The chain is supposed to have begun in Venezuela and was written by Samuel Anthony deGroup, a missionary from South America. The original letter is in New England. It doesn't say where in New England, maybe under a rock, maybe in a museum, maybe pinned to a bulletin board in the main post office. With the price of stamps, the post office is the principle beneficiary in this scheme. If Samuel was a missionary, why is this letter completely devoid of inspirational content? When Sam was writing the original how did he know about Joh, Nolan and Gene? And if I make light of the letter what is going to happen to me and my loved ones?

Over the years I have received chain letters for panties, stockings, recipes, children's books and money. Some I responded to, some I did not. All of them have been a big flop. When I was working at the Treasury Branch in Calgary, a "Christmas Cheer" letter was making the rounds. If you bought some type of booze for the person at the top of the list, and sent on all your letters, and if all the people you sent to send on their letters, then when your name came to the top of the list you would receive liquor from 36 people. The "Christmas Cheer" chain was only offered to applicants who claimed to be serious about keeping it alive and as 36 bottles would last me 36 years, I did not join. I knew people who did join, none of them got 36 bottles. Some of them got a nasty surprise.

There was a lady living in Calgary at that time who was not just a religious fanatic, she was a loud, strident, overbearing, pushy, obnoxious fanatic. Mrs. L. would accost people on the street, tell them that they had too much eye shadow on and demand their repentance. She swooped down on mothers, gave them unwanted child rearing advice and scared babies into shrieking fits. She often carried a lit lantern and sang, very loudly and very badly, "Brighten the corner where you are." She was a happy fanatic but she was loud and embarrassing and when she went into an establishment, all the customers went out.

The plot thickens. "Supposing," some of us thought, "a person expecting to pick up some kind of alcoholic beverage were to arrive at Mrs. L's door. Wouldn't they get a surprise!" Pretending to be a wrong number we called Mrs. L. She was home. Pretending to be Mrs. L., we called our victim. "You have come to the top of my 'Christmas Cheer' letter," we yelled cheerfully, "if you can come right over I have a nice big surprise for you."

Days later, when he had stopped shaking, he told us about it. She answered her door and he greeted her with, "Hi, Mrs. L., I've come for my Christmas Cheer." "Well, you have come to the right place dearie, come on in." She sat between him and the door, he was there for a long time. He did not have fun.

I haven't decided what to do about this latest chain letter. My brain says throw it in the garbage, but some nasty, little niggling superstition says "what if you throw it in the garbage and something awful happens to a member of the family?" Maybe, like the anonymous sender of my copy, I will do some envelopes on the typewriter, and then drop them in a post box in Calgary. I'm afraid I am a weak link where chain letters are concerned. I hope I never get another one.

Town council notes

By Janice Harrington

Didsbury Town Council has resolved to take over administration for the construction and financing of the curling rink/agricultural arena project.

Council passed the resolution at the request of the curling rink building committee.

The town's take over of the administration job means savings of between $35,000 and $40,000 in GST costs said Town Administrator Mike Storey. As a municipality, the town gets a 57 percent rebate on the 7 percent GST.

Building plans for the project, tentatively named the Didsbury Agri Sportsplex, have construction of the first phase scheduled for spring of 1993. First phase work includes the construction of the floor and shell.

Costs for the first phase are estimated at $511,000. Financial arrangements are currently underway with the hopes of opening the rink for operations for the 1993/94 curling season.

Didsbury town council will be looking into a number of projects in the hopes of maintaining Didsbury's natural beauty.

Town administration will be contacting the county, Alberta Transportation and land owners in the proposed coulee golf course area in the hopes of saving some wild species and land currently threatened by development on a recommendation by the Didsbury Environmental Advisory Board.

The town will contact Alberta Transportation to ask permission to dig up Ladyslippers, a local flower currently on the protected species list, threatened by the highway expansion along the 2A near Olds. Council hopes to replant these flowers in the natural wildlife park under construction near Westglen School. The town also hopes to look at land for the proposed golf course and do the same with any natural species there before any development begins.

The county will be approached regarding a natural prairie pathway which ends on 15th Avenue in Didsbury, close to county development in the area. Parts of the pathway, along with natural flora and animal habitat have already been lost in the development and the town wishes to protect the rest of the path.

A motion on removing the community reserve designation on land which used to house the Kinsmen Indoor Swimming Pool has been tabled for further review.

Town council decided to table the idea of removing the designation after listening to 5 speakers at a public hearing on the motion before last week's council meeting.

The speakers, mostly residents around the area, opposed the development of the land and asked that it be made in to a

The Build Our Pool Society has reported that square foot sales for the new Didsbury Aquatic Leisure Centre have reached 244.

The number of sales represents close over $14,000 in funds raised to help pay for the whirlpool, steam bath and water slide.

More than 3,400 square feet must be sold to completely pay for additions to the pool. Pool opening is scheduled for early February.

BOP organizers are also planning to erect a community board in the near future listing the names of those who have donated to the fundraiser, along with a thermometer showing how far fundraising effort have gone and how much further they need to go.

Hospital Food! Yum! Yum! Does that contradict what you usually think? If so, then you haven't been a patient or resident at Mountain View Health Care Centre.

We offer a selective menu to anyone who is able to enjoy a regular diet and a wide range of appetizers, entrees, vegetables, desserts, and beverages are included. The nursing home residents receive a restaurant style of meal service including a dessert cart offering five dessert choices. As well, we tailor therapeutic programs for those restricted in any food items such as salt or fat. A variety of textures are also prepared to meet the needs of those with chewing or swallowing difficulties.

The long term care residents are assessed for nutritional adequacy of their intake. A resident deficient in protein may be offered a high protein milkshake between meals. At this time we prepare 189 such snacks each day.

Next time you are visiting in our facility, try our cafeteria. You will be pleasantly surprised by the inviting meals offered at a reasonable price. We are no strangers to catering either and provide luncheons and dinners for educational and staff related functions.

Our department employs 24 persons, who prepare and serve over 3,800 items per day on trays and plates. The cleaning and sanitizing of the pots, dishes, and equipment is essential to avoid the risk of food borne illness.

As well, our registered dietitian individually instructs persons referred by their physician, for meal plan modifications that meet their medical needs. Group classes are held for expectant parents, and persons with elevated blood cholesterol.

For 5 months of the year, a dietary service technology student from S.A.I.T. receives practical training in management skills and the clinical aspects of the profession.

Now that you know us a little better, you can appreciate the wide range of functions Nutritional Services is responsible for, and thus understand why we are affectionately referred to as the "NUTS" Department.

Christmas contest announced

By Janice Harrington

Dust off the colored lights and buff up Santa's nose, the search for the best dressed house in Didsbury is on!

The Didsbury Chamber of Commerce has again announced that it will sponsor the Christmas House Decoration Contest, to find which home in Didsbury and surrounding area best shows off the resident's Christmas spirit.

Chamber Secretary Lora Lowther said the Chamber wanted to get the word about the contest out as soon as possible to allow Didsburians the chance to plan and implement the winning design for Christmas 1992.

"We usually get a lot of lights out so it's a pretty tough decision," Lowther said.

Every house in town with lights on will be judged for the honor. Rural residents who would like to participate must register.

Lowther said Chamber members donate their time to drive around looking at every home to decide who will win the plaque.

"They go everywhere," she said. "They check all the streets and trailer courts, anywhere to find Christmas lights."

The winner is presented with the plaque at the December Chamber meeting.

A final date for judging has yet to be set, but Lowther believes it will probably take place sometime between December 14th and 18th.

"Unless it's like last year," she said. "It was so cold, we had to postpone for a week."

For more information about the contest and to register (rural residents only), call Lowther at 335-9109.

Snyder appointed zone chair

One of Didsbury's two school board trustees has been appointed as zone chair for the Alberta School Board Association.

Murray Snyder, recently re-elected by acclamation to the County of Mountain View School Board, was chosen as chairman by the Zone 5 board of the ASBA at their last regular meeting.

Snyder had joined the Zone 5 directors last year and had acted as vice chair at that time.

"All encapsulated, the purpose of the zone is to inform the various boards about the latest education happenings," Snyder said. "From an Alberta Education standpoint, a trustee and bargaining standpoint, we look at all different areas. The zone is kind of a clearing house of information."

Snyder feels his new position as chair of Zone 5 will bring positive effects to the county school board.

"We'll be able to have insight on all the trends, movements, directions," he said. "We can anticipate and be on the cutting edge."

The Zone 5 board of the ASBA is composed of 19 school boards.

Student contribution

Westglen students put in their share towards the new pool by purchasing one square foot for each grade. Students reps Rita Blakely (7b), Renee McNeil (8b), Nic Dykstra (6b) and Matt Bisschop (5b) along with Student's Union President Sheldon McKee made the presentation to BOP President Lance Plewts.

"The transportation cost would kill us. However, there is one aspect we could share and that is the glass grinder. We are discussing the possibility of that with other towns now."

Another area of cooperation being discussed is shipping arrangements. Banfield said towns are also looking into the feasibility of sharing trucking.

"It doesn't make sense that if we have a half a truck full to go and Sundre has half a truck full that we would each pay for separate shipping," he said. "It would make more sense if we could consolidate, so they are talking about that."

Also in the meantime, Banfield said the Lions are preparing another form of recycling facility sharing.

"We are proposing to manage the facility, but any group could raise funds with it as well," he said. "The basic scenario is if a group wishes to make money, they could go on a collecting blitz and do the sorting and baling, use the equipment under our management, and they would get the net profits for whatever they collect."

Banfield said the Lions anticipate the debenture by-law and grant application processing will be completed by early January. In the meantime, he said, the Lions will be talking with organizations interested in raising money through the recycling project to prepare them for the project's start up.

"We just want anyone who is interested to know what is happening right now and that if they want more information they can contact Russ Croft or myself."

Ross Ford report

Although Halloween has past, we would like you to know that our students collected about $650.00 in their UNICEF boxes. Although this amount is lower than in past years, we want to say "thank you" to those who contributed. We do realize that these are tough economic times.

The Didsbury Schools Habitat Renewal Project has begun. The pond area northwest of Westglen was dug a couple weeks ago. We had hoped to get the fence up, but this may be postponed due to the weather conditions.

Last week our whole school started a social skills program. We plan to do more direct instruction on social skills that children need so that they will be better able to function in society.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

Only lip service?

By Janice Harrington

The leadership race for the position being vacated by Premier Don Getty isn't causing as much of a public stir as one might expect, but is creating a new approach to campaigning.

In the old days, when money was flowing freely through government hands, campaigning was made up of promises; promises which usually cost tax payers a lot of cash.

But nowadays the promises have more to do with the reverse. Candidates in this election are promising to cut spending, a demand they say they hear from all corners of the province.

And truthfully, the demand to reduce the debt and eliminate provincial deficit spending has been heard from some community pillars, in the media, in the coffee shops and around businesses. Everyone, it seems, has reached their limit on the debt.

But what happens when the politicians who aim to please start the cut backs? The risk is that those who are crying for cutbacks don't understand what they will lose.

Cutbacks, especially those being expounded by leadership hopefuls, are going to hurt. They mean losses in every sector. Less money and more belt tightening in all government financed operations. And perhaps—the most hurtful of all—more taxes to get ourselves out of the hole dug during the eighties.

Already people are griping about how much less they can buy with their dollar, when they actually have the dollar to spend, so you can imagine the uproar that will happen when programs like user pay are instituted for some government services.

But the point is that this type of evil is a necessary evil. Continuing to spend into oblivion is obviously not the answer. It certainly hasn't worked in provinces like Ontario. Countries around the world have already taken the tough love approach and are finding success. As a province and a country, we could learn much from their lead.

As tax payers, we must just learn to bite the bullet. As your mother used to say—you'll thank me for this later.

Oh, and one final thing . . . GO STAMPS GO!!!

Quote Of The Week:

"I think we need to show people respect. If we don't respect them, then they don't respect us. And then they vote for Laurence Decore."

Tory leadership hopeful Elaine McCoy discussing her platform at a luncheon in Olds Monday.

A letter from home

Dear Editor:

Canada, as a member of the United Nations, has sent the men and women of our Canadian Armed Forces around the globe for peacekeeping operations. These can be lonely times for these men and women who are away from their homes and their families. The only news they get from home is by way of letters from people who will take the time to write.

Those of us at home can help by writing letters to these soldiers. For the students of our schools, this can be a learning experience, keeping them informed on the developments of the United Nations and crisis around the world. We can all learn about a way of life unfamiliar to most of us, learn to communicate to men and women we have never met before, and make new friends. Everyone from students at school to our seniors in Lodges, can all be involved. Will you take the time to write a letter to a soldier posted overseas?

Please write to: Canadian Soldiers, Canadian Contingency, OP Harmony, CCUNPROFOR, CFPO 5003, Belleville, Ontario, K0K 3R0.

These letters can be sent postage free by dropping off the letter at your MP's local office or by sending the letter to your local Member of Parliament in Ottawa and asking them to forward the letter on to the above address. Or you can drop the letters off at your nearest CFB or at CFB Calgary.

If I can provide you with any further information, please feel free to call at, 403-335-4749.

Sincerely,
Marjorie Malinowski,
Didsbury

Fear of "sex"

Dear Editor:

The Solicitor General, Hon. Ken Rostad, says the controversial new book "SEX", by Madonna, will not be banned and no charges will be laid. As a result, Albertans will have access to one more graphic pornographic source.

Some kind of sexual offence is reported nearly every day. Sexual harassment in the workplace, sexual assaults, rape, and sexually related child abduction and murder are becoming far too common. The public is hostile. After the tragedy, there is a great cry of vengeance against the perpetrator. What wouldn't we like to do to him if he ever gets caught! Too many times that never happens.

Why don't we cry before it happens? No amount of crying afterwards will bring back a dead child. Why don't we cry when such stuff as Madonna's book comes out? The cry then is "censorship" if anyone dares to suggest such gross pornography ought to be banned.

There are those, of course, who will argue there is no connection between sexually explicit material and sex crimes. There is much reliable research which confirms that there is, apart from the fact that pornography is often found in the possession of molesters and rapists when they are tracked down. How much more evidence do we need?

Society will have to decide who we want to have freedom, the sexually promiscuous, the rapists and the murderers; or the women who don't want to be raped, and the little girls who want to play in their own front yards.

Sincerely,
Douglas H. Russell, President
Alcohol-Drug Education

GOVERNMENT NEWS

Report from the Legislature

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

The report on Electoral Boundaries has been turned in to the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly on November 16, 1992, as required. There have been some significant changes proposed across the province but first let me tell you about the Olds-Didsbury Constituency.

Our new northern and eastern boundaries conform exactly with those of the County of Mountain View. As a matter of fact, the entire County of Mountain View falls within the Olds-Didsbury Constituency for the first time ever. So the Netook glider field is still within our boundaries but the James River Bridge is now in Rocky Mountain House. Our western boundary has changed somewhat in that it stops just west of Bearberry and goes south to include Water Valley and a portion of M.D. No. 8.

On the east side the boundary is extended to the County border—almost 16 miles east of Highway No. 2 in some areas.

The southern boundary includes the Town of Crossfield and most of the Crossfield school district. The boundary line follows one mile east of Highway No. 772 to the Calgary city limits—where it stops! Cochrane is also excluded but as you can tell our southern boundary has been extended significantly. We have, however, retained all our towns, villages, communities, etc., which is quite significant considering what has happened elsewhere.

Acknowledging the increase in population—we are currently at 2,545,553 residents—and the urban settlement of much of that increase, there has been two ridings added to Calgary and one to Edmonton, both at the expense of rural ridings. So there will be three less rural ridings in the next election.

I would be pleased to provide a copy of the legal description of our riding, or a xeroxed copy of the proposed map upon request. I would caution you, however, that this proposal has not yet been approved by the Legislature. I feel confident that, given the past difficulties that this report has encountered, the current document is a fair compromise and will likely be accepted. If so, then the Chief Electoral Officer will be advised so that he may revise and re-organize his office and procedures. It means, of course, that new returning officers, support staff and locations will be required in many areas.

It is significant to note that our area was exceptionally well represented at the hearing in Olds and I am confident that those presentations contributed significantly to the results.

If you would like more information or just want to voice your concerns, please phone my constituency office at 556-3132 or my office in Edmonton at 422-0141 (collect).

RCMP report

Didsbury RCMP are asking for public assistance in locating those persons responsible for a series of Break, Enter and thefts to Didsbury Schools.

File #92-2765: Didsbury RCMP received a complaint of broken windows and a break and enter at Ross Ford School at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday, August 14, 1992. A series of windows along the south-west corner of the school were smashed by throwing smaller 13 inch tires through them. Two classrooms received damage and the main office was broken into with nothing apparently taken.

File #92-2803: Police received a complaint on August 18, 1992 from a break and enter at the Didsbury High School. Entry was gained to the school and a pair of glass doors were smashed. A light fixture was also smashed and nothing was taken from the school.

File #92-3674: Police were notified of a break and enter which occurred overnight on Sunday, November 1st at the Ross Ford School. The suspects broke into the north end of the school and proceeded to ransack every section and room of the school. The suspects urinated in the water fountain and on the floor of at least one classroom. The teachers' desks in every room were ransacked and graffiti was written on an office wall. The teachers' staff room was vandalized and eggs were thrown around the interior of the school. The main office was again broken into with little if anything actually stolen.

File #92-3883: Didsbury RCMP were called to the Didsbury High School as the result of a break, enter and theft sometime overnight on November 21st, 1992. Entry was gained to the building and the suspects made their way to the shop area. They caused damage in that area with fire extinguishers and also by running a vehicle into standing tool kits. They made their way throughout the school vandalizing the main office, snack room, staff room and going through approximately 20 student lockers. A small amount of change was taken during this theft. Graffiti was also sprayed on the floors of the school.

Didsbury RCMP are asking for public assistance in locating the persons responsible for these break and enters. Callers may remain anonymous and are eligible for cash rewards. Tipsters may call Crime Stoppers toll-free at 1-800-342-TIPS or 1-800-342-8477.

Jump-Starting The Economy
Louise Feltham
Wild Rose M.P.

How do we spark the Canadian economy and get everyone back to work?

Some "experts" say we have to spend our way out of hard times. They say we need to create jobs so that we increase spending power. That is what Bob Rae tried to do during his first year as Premier of Ontario and that is what President-elect Bill Clinton has told the American people he is going to do. These ideas come with price-tags—price-tags for the tax-payers.

So the discussions about jump-starting the economy by building infrastructure are discussions about tax dollars being spent to build or upgrade telecommunication facilities, water and sewer systems, airports and highways.

Should we be doing this now?

Should we be spending tax dollars, on infrastructure, to create jobs?

I am not convinced we should but I would appreciate your views.

Math 30 review underway

It's report card time for the Mathematics 30 curriculum introduced to Grade 12 students last fall.

A panel of experts from among education partners has been appointed by The Alberta Teachers' Association to take a balanced look at secondary school mathematics programs.

The panel—which operates independently—will test the assumption by parents and students that all students need Mathematics 30, says panel chair, Arthur Jorgensen. While the course was designed for the top 30 percent of math students, 70 percent currently take the course, primarily because it's a requirement of many post-secondary programs.

Jorgensen says those college and university math requirements will also be examined. "We'd like them to define more specifically what math they require. We're wondering if Mathematics 33 or Mathematics 20 wouldn't be adequate," he says.

"Research will show you that more students know more math today than ever before," says Jorgensen. Yet while more students take a higher level of math and 66 percent pass, there are concerns over the 34 percent who don't.

At its first meeting Tuesday, the panel decided to survey students taking the course for the second time to see if they see themselves or the course as responsible for their first failure. It will also survey the current level of qualifications for secondary mathematics teachers.

"This committee is a very broad-based group representing post secondary educators, people on the front lines and Alberta Education," he says. The panel is not looking to assign blame but to investigate solutions. "It's fact-finding in that sense," says Jorgensen. "We hope by working together we can solve the problem."

The Blue Ribbon Panel will conclude its study and make recommendations by January 31, 1993.

Panel members include: Chairman Arthur Jorgensen;

Mathematics teachers Robert Hart, Helen Stewart and Ken May; Department of Education representative Florence Glanfield; University Professor Tom Kieren and College Associate Dean Jean Phelps.

The Green Report

By The Didsbury Environmental Advisory Board
Did You Know

That we are fast approaching the holiday season and the time of year when we like to get down to the age old task of polishing the silver and the brass?

This is a chore hated by most people but is, nevertheless, a necessity not to mention messy, time consuming and harmful to your hands and the environment.

The usual method of cleaning our silver uses a polish full of chemical. So instead, we would like you to try two easier and environmentally sound alternatives.

For brass, all you need is some ketchup and an old, clean rag. Coat the brass in a thin layer of ketchup, let it stand for awhile, then wipe off, wash and buff.

For your silver, you need a box of baking soda, aluminum foil, a large plastic bowl (this plastic part is important) and some boiling water. Place your silver in the bowl with a large piece of tin foil, pour boiling water over the top of these and then add about 3 to 4 tbsp. of the baking soda. The reaction is obvious but it may be necessary to add more baking soda to the water. Remove the silver with tongs or rubber gloves, wash and buff. The foil attracts the dirt and tarnish off the silver and does need to be replaced occasionally as it dirties.

These methods are not only a more convenient and inexpensive way to do your polishing, but help out the environment by keeping unwanted and harmful chemicals from our water and waste systems.

If you have ideas on how to help out the environment, or have a question on how to help keep our environment clean, please write to The Didsbury Environmental Advisory Board, Box 237, Didsbury, Alberta, T0M 0W0.

News from the Dragon's Den

Firstly, a big congratulations goes out to the DHS Senior Boys Volleyball Team. Coach Drever and his players have placed first in the County for the fourth consecutive year. Zones were held in Canmore last weekend and the results were not available for this publication. Regardless, the guys have had a great season. (Basketball season will soon be upon us!)

Mr. Overguard hosted a multicultural lunch with his grade 10 students last week. The buffet celebrated many of the different groups of people studied in the Social 10 program. Good food and a good time was had by all.

Mr. Neuberger took a group of students to Red Deer College for their annual scholarship competition. Each pair of students is asked to either perform or answer questions for a given subject area. The French and Drama groups placed first and the Biology pair placed second. Overall results have not been forwarded to the school as yet. (We placed first last year and we are hoping for the same this year!)

A large group of students will be traveling to Calgary this week. These grade 11 and 12 students will be touring various secondary institutions (U of A, SAIT, and Mount Royal). The field trip is important for those students preparing for life after DHS... yes, there is a life after DHS!

Lastly, another congratulations goes out to our students, that is the students on the Honor Roll:

Grade 10: Arlene Olson, Nikki Stogrin, Jodi Miller, Charles Silbernagel, Melanie Fincaryk, Anita Reimer, Mary Sanders, Anthony Charron, Vicki Brown, Katherine Dunlop, Laureen Hall, Tanya Pahl, and Jody Laveque.

Grade 11: Stephen Wright, Lisa McNeil, Shaun McKee, Darren Klinck, Curtis Mousseau, Roland Sawatzky, Travis Archibald, Madelaine Artindale, Denise Strange, and Gemma Kelsall.

Grade 12: Kim Brown, Jennifer Gingrich, Corina Kuelker, Michael Coupland, Becky Kelsall, Morgan Anderson, and Sherry Skuce.

Super work people!

Renovation spending surpassed new construction

In 1991, renovation spending totalled $16.7 billion, amounting to nearly half of total spending on residential construction, according to Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation's (CMHC) new National Renovation Markets publication, launched earlier this month.

The new annual publication is expected to become an important planning resource within the construction industry, compiling Canadian renovation information from a wide range of sources and analyzing the extent of activity and recent market trends.

"Information on homeowner renovation spending is important to the industry as two-thirds of all expenditures is spent on contract work," explained Gilles Proulx, CMHC's Chief Economist. "Right now, the renovation industry is just as big as new construction and its value should increase further in the future."

"Contrary to previous recessions, renovation spending has not been unaffected," concluded Proulx. "However, renovation spending declined only slightly compared to a large drop in construction of new homes, and recent indicators show it is recovering in 1992." The regional pattern of renovation spending has moved in tandem with the general economy, contracting in Ontario and Quebec while maintaining steady growth in B.C. and Alberta.

This publication reviews recent trends in renovation spending, presents a profile of who spends the most on renovations, broken-down by age, value of the dwelling, etc., and provides a provincial breakdown of renovation activity.

Selling livestock—and getting paid for them

This is the time of year when we always hear of unfortunate situations where livestock are marketed, but the producer runs into difficulty getting paid.

This column is for those of you who haven't heard of the Alberta Livestock Patrons Assurance Fund, or alternately, have heard of it but aren't sure how it applies to you.

The fund is a seller's protection plan. Since January 1 of this year, it has been funded by a 10 cent per head check-off on cattle sold in the province. For cattle sold through an auction market, the brand inspection and the check-off are automatic.

Producers can choose to opt out of the plan. In order to withdraw, a producer must provide the Minister of Agriculture, or his agent, with a written declaration at the beginning of the calendar year, or within 30 days of their first sale.

The problem of non-payment usually happens when cattle are sold privately. Often in a private sale, cattle aren't brand inspected and the seller isn't eligible for protection from the assurance fund.

To be protected by the security program certain conditions must be met. Your cattle must be brand inspected, the check-off paid on an eligible sale, sales made to licensed livestock dealers, and as a seller you didn't extend credit.

You must remember, though, that if you defer payment for your livestock for more than 48 hours from the time of sale, you aren't covered by the plan.

If you don't take full payment for your livestock within that 48 hour period, you are viewed as having extended a line of credit to the buyer. This then is a private matter between the buyer and seller.

There is another time line to keep in mind. You must notify the Minister of Agriculture, or Alberta Agriculture's regulatory services branch, within 24 hours of becoming aware you weren't paid.

Keep in mind that by legislation, you have 60 days from the day of the sale to put in a claim for default against a licensed livestock dealer. But, it's important you alert the system of the problem and take the necessary steps to put in a claim.

The maximum amount you can recover through the Livestock Patrons Assurance Fund is 80 per cent of the claim.

For more information, contact your local Alberta Agriculture district office, or the regulatory services branch in Edmonton at 427-5098. That number is toll-free through your local government RITE operator.

(The Alberta Farmers' Advocate can help resolve disputes and act as a mediator. As well, the Farmers' Advocate can provide advice on a varied range of topics. You can call the Farmers' Advocate's office in Edmonton at 427-2433, toll-free through your local government RITE operator.)

Lab germination tests recommended

Producers thinking about using any of this year's harvest for next year's seed stock should have germination tests done says an Alberta Agriculture specialist.

"To ensure you don't have problems with any of the seed you will market or plant, have a germination test done," says Bill Witbeck, supervisor of seed technology. "Don't risk the outcome of next year's production by failing to have a proper germination test done on your samples."

A germination test is the best way to find out if the seed is viable. Witbeck says some producers have gotten into the habit of doing their own germination tests. "However," he says, "in years like this where frost damage, moisture content and dormancy can have a major impact on interpreting results, a trained eye is essential."

His advice is to have germination tests done by an accredited seed lab. "You can't afford to gamble on something that will determine your crop next year. Improper evaluation of seedlings could have a devastating affect on your next year's crop," he says. "Professional seed analysts have the expertise to evaluate the condition of seedlings as they grow."

There are five accredited seed laboratories in Alberta that do germination testing. They are: the Alberta Wheat Pool in Camrose and Grande Prairie; Norwest Labs in Edmonton; 20/20 Seed Labs in Nisku; and, United Grain Growers in Edmonton.

Whitbeck also notes only accredited labs can assign a grade to pedigreed crops. "All seed being sold, whether pedigreed or common, must be graded," he adds. Non-accredited labs may do germination tests for common seed.

For more information, contact your Alberta Agriculture district office, or Witbeck at the Field Crops Development Centre in Lacombe at 782-4641.

Olympic golden boy coming to Olds

By Elaine Wilson

December 2, Olympic gold medalist Mark Tewksbury will be on hand to tell his story. Tewksbury is rapidly building a solid reputation for his public speaking skills through which he motivates young Canadians by explaining how everyone has the ability to be a winner in their own right.

If you've ever wondered what it's like to be the best in the world, here's your chance to find out. Both Mark Tewksbury and Diane Jones-Konihowski will be on hand to answer all your questions. You can catch them at the Deer Meadow School on December 2, 1992, at 11:15 a.m., Olds College at 12:15 p.m. and at the Olds High School at 2:15 p.m.

His visit is jointly sponsored by TransAlta Utilities and the Alberta Sport Council. Olds TransAlta District Supervisor

Phil Philipoff is looking forward to meeting Tewksbury and Jones-Konihowski himself and hopes Olds residents will take note of the date and time. "Originally [Tewksbury] was to have been here on November 9, but that had to be cancelled due to poor weather conditions. Weather permitting, they'll be here on December 2. We here at TransAlta are pleased to be able to bring Mark Tewksbury and Diane Jones-Konihowski to Olds to share their stories."

Securing an Olympic gold medal involves years of training and hard work. Making the Olympic squad is quite a distinction in itself, but the select few who bring home medals are special indeed. In the pool or at your school, Mark Tewksbury is a bona fide champion. Don't miss out on your opportunity to meet him and hear him speak.

Nightspot suffers theft

By Elaine Wilson

A weekend robbery at Olds' newest night spot is not the work of kids.

That's the news from Olds RCMP Corporal Dwaine Skappak, who along with other officers, is continuing to investigate the robbery at the Hay City Saloon.

The theft was discovered Sunday by Hay City co-owner Bob Delong. The robbery is believed to have happened around noon on Sunday.

The Hay City had just opened its doors this summer. RCMP said approximately $3,000 in cash was taken during the incident along with about 40 to 50 cartons of cigarettes and an underdetermined quantity of liquor.

While RCMP have not yet announced any suspects in the case, Skappak said the robbers were "not kids." No further information was available.

Mount View Lodge news

By Annie Caush

Hi all! I guess everyone is enjoying this lovely weather. So nice to be able to get around on the dry streets. It's hard to believe Christmas is only a little over a month away.

Our "Mini-Auction" last week was a huge success, bringing in $841.00 for the Lodge Building Fund. Our "Resident" poetess Gladys Smith tells of it like this--

"As an auctioneer--we think Jim's the best
With his help our sale was a huge success.

A nice boost towards the Building Fund

So many thanks to everyone. Maybe it will let Alberta Municipal Affairs know

That we mean business, then they will come up with some dough.

Now wouldn't that be just great But don't hold your breath, it might be a long wait.

Of course us Old Folks never lose hope

And in the mean time we will cope.

The great tasting donuts from the

Co-op

With a cup of coffee sure hit the spot.

So thanks to all who helped in any way

It takes many hands but it made a great day."

The recent Shuffle Board Tournament had Mrs. Schmelke and Mr. Lenz as winners.

The November Birthday Party was hosted by Auxiliary members, Mrs. Church and Mrs. Herbert.

Mrs. Benedict showed us pictures taken around Olds. So many excellent pictures in so many places. Beautiful new and old homes and gardens. Even one taken of the "Olds Gazette crew" at work. Thanks to all for a lovely evening and a nice lunch. Those with November birthdays are Mrs. Ehrman, Mrs. Young and Mr. Sid Smith. Unfortunately Mrs. Ehrmann and Mrs. Young are in hospital, so missed the party. We hope you feel much better soon.

Winter wonderland

Looks like winter is here to stay, especially after some of the cold and frosty weather last week. One good thing about the temperatures—it makes some of the prettiest scenery around.

For the Winter Fitness Buffs:

Fill a toque with high energy food choices. Include a package of dried fruits such as apricots, bananas, apples, prunes or raisins. Fruit, nut and seed mixtures, commonly known as gorp or trail mix can be found in the bulk foods section of most grocery stores. Or try making your own trail mix--combine peanuts, shelled sunflower seeds, raisins or other dried fruit. Package in a plastic bag; it will keep in the fridge for up to 6 months. For a special touch, add sachets of a special tea and a few boxes of shelf-stable, UHT (ultra-high temperature) milk.

For The Busy Family:

Prepare your own "fast-food" gift box. Fill a box with all the ingredients and recipe needed to prepare a quick but special meal such as pasta with spaghetti sauce. Include a small piece of parmesan cheese and maybe even a bottle of wine. Or make a one-dish freezer meal like seafood lasagna which is ready to be popped into the oven or microwave during the busy holidays. Consider completing the gift with a bag of mandarin or tangerine oranges.

For The Host/Hostess:

Come bearing an assortment of cheeses and whole grain crackers and biscuits in a wicker basket. Try some of Alberta's delicious cheeses such as colby, camembert, gouda, and herbed quark. Or prepare a basket of specialty milk beverages. Make your own ice coffee or cafe' au lait or take advantage of the variety of eggnog choices that appear on the supermarket shelf this time of year. Keep in mind--these welcome foods are perishable and so should go into the fridge and not under the tree. For Elderly Friends And Neighbors:

Ease your mind about friends and neighbors who may be kept housebound by bad weather or poor health. Put together an "emergency basket" filled with tasty nonperishables. Include a can of salmon, tuna, shrimp or crab, packaged crackers or oatcakes, a jar of honey, jam or jelly, individual puddings cups, boxes of fruit juice, an assortment of teas and small containers or evaporated or UHT milk.

SUNDRE / WESTWARD HO NEWS

Blue box program still successful

By Bob Boucher

The Sundre and District recycling project which has been in operation for 1½ years, is a satisfying success, said Harvey Doering, Sundre Town Administrator.

As more residents of Sundre and the surrounding district becomes aware of the project and its benefits to the environment, Doering said he expects increased participation by everyone.

Specific recyclable materials are collected each week from the Blue Boxes in town and are then placed in bins at the transfer station for further disposal. District residents are urged to join in collecting and depositing their recyclable materials in bins at the transfer station which is located east and south of Sundre.

Harvey said that the volume of materials collected in Blue Boxes from January 1992 to October was 80,140 lbs. and the total from both the Blue Boxes and bins amounted to 151,640 lbs. He said that it is a program in which everyone, from juniors to seniors, should be proud and willing to take part in.

Anyone wishing to join the Blue Box program may do so at the town office. A special Blue Box is purchased for $5.00, and a calendar is supplied showing a list of recyclable materials plus their collection dates. The sale of the collection materials aid in defraying the cost of collection.

Workshop brings out storytelling talents

Ever feel captivated by someone's recollection of an occurrence simply from the way they told about it out loud?

Chances are, they just recently attended the "Storytelling Workshop" at Wayfair, (3.5 km south of Sundre along the Bergen Road). The afternoon event featured such storytelling gurus as Wendy Berner, from Calgary, and Olds' own Mary Hays--both working as freelance storytellers in their own areas.

Hays--who works as a mother, elementary school teacher, and coordinator for storytelling techniques county-wide--finds the traditional art of relating a good story exhilarating. "It's truly wonderful," Hays comments, "...when you can set back and listen to someone who has the ability to lift the words from a page and bring them to life."

While becoming an effective storyteller requires the mastery of such techniques as: proper voice tone, superb visualization skills, and a limitless imagination; virtually anyone can become talented in the field.

"Everyone has told a good joke or story about their family at one time for another, this is really just an extension of that," Hays admits most of her own storytelling skills were picked up through the day-to-day experiences she can remember as a child. "When I look back, I can really see that that was certainly the case. I can remember sitting around our breakfast table listening to my Dad tell us about how things were when he was growing up. It is those sorts of experiences that you find so valuable later on in life."

The important thing to remember, according to Hays, is that any story retold has three definite components; a beginning, a middle section, and an ending. Without these, most storytellers are more apt to lose their listeners half way through their presentation. "You don't have to be professional actor or drama major to be able to do a good job on telling your story... it has nothing to do with memorization, or recitation. It's the art of taking a series of events and experiences from a written page, and internalizing them as if they were your own."

Hays' philosophy was reinforced by that of guest speaker "Wendy Berner at this past weekend's Storytelling Workshop. Berner--a representative from Calgary's "Stories Alive"--helped give advice on the various techniques the 10 participants could use to perfect their existing storytelling styles. "We try to help people out in as non-judgmental way as possible. Everyone has their own strengths and weaknesses," Hays says.

Anyone who missed out on the Storytelling Workshop this past weekend can join in on the Reader's Theatre being planned at the Didsbury Library early in the new year. "Participants will each be given a script to read their own parts from, as in a play. It's a great format for children especially since there is lots of repetition to strengthen their reading skills, and no need for memorization."

Interested storytelling enthusiasts can look for more of Hays' guidance at numerous other workshops being held throughout the year. Some of them include: Storytelling with Props, and Tell-A-Round, taking place at Wayfair on January 18 beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Sundre students' union recognized

By Bob Boucher

The Senior High School Students' Union made a donation of $8,000.00 to the Pool Fund on June 23, with a pledge of further donations for the next two years in an amount dependent on the total of their yearly yield from projects they complete.

On Wednesday, November 18, Roger Kyncl, a Director of the Sundre Swimming Pool Committee, presented a plaque to the Students' Union in appreciation for their support. The plaque was accepted by Sandra Lucas, President of the Students' Union.

Ross Downes, Staff Advisor to the Students' Union, said that the students strive diligently through the year to raise funds to pay for various school projects, such as athletic programs, year books, student graduation and three scholarships they sponsor which are a minimum of $500.00. He also said that their main fundraising activity occurs in May, at which time a May Queen fundraising project is inaugurated.

"The students go into the community and sell their services, in a variety of chore related activities, they do not accept donations, it is a value pay for value received project," he said. He stated that from their endeavors one week in May of 1992 which started on a Thursday and ended the following Thursday with no carryover of contracts, netted them $30,199.00.

Wishing to participate in the Pool program, Ross said the Students' Union were happy to have the opportunity and resources available to do so. They recognize the project as a functional addition to the community for all to share.

CARSTAIRS NEWS

Treasure hunt offers much

Plans are now finalized for the Great Carstairs Christmas Hunt and judging from the itinerary, there will be plenty of activities offered for young and old on the evening of Friday, November 27.

Somewhere in Carstairs there are three buried treasures and during the hours of 4 p.m. to 10 p.m., shoppers will be able to visit the 32 participating merchants and hunt for clues as to the whereabouts of the treasures. Each merchant will have a club posted within their building and the objective is to collect as many clues to be able to solve the location of the hidden treasure chests, filled with merchandise and gift certificated donated by local businesses. Ballot boxes will be available at each merchant and the answer to the solution of the puzzle can be deposited in these. At 10 p.m., these ballot boxes will be brought to the old community hall and a draw will take place. The first three names with the correct answer drawn, will then select a number coinciding with a treasure chest. The number drawn is the treasure chest the person will win.

The Great Carstairs Christmas Treasure Hunt is sponsored by the Carstairs Businessmen's Association and is designed to replace the traditional midnight madness.

Another attraction of the evening is the 2nd Annual Carstairs Card Show being held at the Weber Scout Hall from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. At this show, which has attracted eight dealers from the immediate area of Airdrie, Crossfield, Carstairs, Didsbury and Olds, card enthusiasts will have the opportunity of buying, selling and trading sports cards designated for hockey, baseball, football and basketball. Also, there will be two tables of sports memorabilia on display and at 9 p.m. this memorabilia will be auctioned off. Items include, autographed hockey sticks from the Calgary Flames and Edmonton Oilers, Flames' tickets, Stampede's sports package, Cannons' sports package and various other memorabilia.

A autographed football from the 1992 Grey Cup Champions, the Calgary Stampede has been obtained for a door prize and to be eligible for this prize a person must make a donation to the Lions Food Bank. And for the young ladies, there will be a couple of tables displaying Barbie dolls and related items. Admission is just $2.

For the kids, movies will be shown at the old community hall from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and from 8:30 p.m. The movies, courtesy of Carstairs Video Vision will feature a Christmas theme and come complete with buttered popcorn and a cool glass of pop. Admission is 50 cents or a donation to the Lions Food Bank.

Also at the old community hall, the Crusin Canines, an entertaining dog troupe from Calgary, will be performing from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Admission is 50 cents or donation to the Lions Food Bank.

And for those with hunger pains, the Carstairs Volunteer Fire Department will be serving a hot dog and hot chocolate for just 50 cents. All proceeds will be donated to local charities.

Election results remain the same

By Janice Harrington

A judicially ordered ballot recount for the Carstairs municipal election has returned the same results.

The ballot recount, which took place in judge's chambers in Calgary last Wednesday, reinforced the results which were announced after the October 19 election—Bob Wilson was duly elected as mayor as were those elected to council.

The judicial order for the recount was made earlier this month after a hearing in the Court of Queen's Bench in Calgary, a hearing held after application was made by losing candidates Richard Blair and Gary Selanders.

An affidavit filed by the two alleged election procedure irregularities, specifically failure of the returning officer to deputize assistants, failure to regulate traffic in and out of the counting room and actual count conduct irregularity.

Judgement was not made on the allegations because the town did not oppose the application for a recount.

Initial results from the October 19 election showed Blair losing the race to Wilson by 31 votes and Selanders losing his bid for a council seat by 39 votes.

Carstairs returning officer

Daphne Turner said the recount didn't like to change those results.

"The end result was the same as far as nobody lost their seat," she said. "You always see a few changes up and down in numbers but things ended up just as they were originally."

The Didsbury Review is looking for a correspondent to cover newstories and events in the Carstairs area. If you are interested, please send a resume' with some samples of your writing to: The Didsbury Review, P.O. Box 760, Didsbury, Alberta, T0M 0W0.

CREMONA/WATER VALLEY NEWS

Two for the show

By Kathy Parsons

Two... thumbs up, that is. The play, "The Emancipation of Billy McGee McGar" had all the features of good family entertainment... laughter, music and love.

Billed as a cowboy musical and presented by the Cremona Valleyview Children's Homes, the play opens with a branding scene complete with the sound of mooing cows.

Although the story is set in the days of the wild west, author and father to the majority of performers, Roy Luyendyk touches on a theme that has relevance today. George Ralston, a rancher played by Luyendyk, falls on hard times and is threatened with the loss of his ranch.

Sir Cedric Poopendale arrives on the scene from England with his valet, William McGee McGar to purchase the ranch. Ralston and his 6 ranch hands hope to stay on and work the ranch for Poopendale.

Poopendale may have money but he is a stuff shirt and treats McGee McGar, who has become

"Billy" to the ranch hands, with highbrow indifference.

Catching the independent spirit of the cowboys, McGee McGar becomes more outspoken and dreams of breaking free of Poopendale. He also falls in love with Ralston's daughter, Ramona.

In the meantime, the lonely cowboys have "ordered" girls from a marriage agency in Toronto to come out west and settle down with them. Four girls arrive the same day as Poopendale and the six ranch hands go a courtin' with advice from the ranch cook Maude.

Poopendale finally pushes a cowboy too far by trying to snatch one of the girls from under his nose. Poopendale ends up in the water trough and leaves for England in a huff. McGee McGar casts his lot with his new found and independent friends and stays on at the ranch.

With the ranch's future no longer certain, the love between McGee McGar and Ramona, the ranch hands and their mail-order gals and Ralston and cook Maude all seem to be falling apart. McGee McGar saves the day when he discovers gold while digging a new backhouse hole.

Lots of laughs and plenty of songs carried the show. The corral of performers showed plenty of singing talent and the play was given considerable charm by the children performing.

Keep your eyes peeled for notices of another production from the Cremona Valleyview Children Homes scheduled for spring.

Contractor problem leads to frustration

By Kathy Parsons

Peter and Sharon Janzen moved to Water Valley and began construction of their dream home in the country. Having built several houses in Calgary previously, the Janzens expected little trouble.

Then came the construction of the fireplace and the nightmare began. Sharon complained to Alberta Labour and Safety who issued the building permit but was told that due to budgetary constraints, no inspection would be made.

According to Alex Morrison, Building Safety Officer with Alberta Labour and Safety in Red Deer, present legislation doesn't include mandatory inspection. "Their concerns seemed to stem mainly from the quality of the job and we are not mandated to cover that. We are concerned only with meeting the building code," Morrison said. "Anything outside that properly belongs in a civil matter between the contractor and the Janzens," he added.

The Janzens were concerned about the quality of the workmanship as well as it meeting the building code and refused to take no for an answer. The matter is going to court and in the meantime the Janzens tried other channels to get Alberta Safety and Labour to react but got no where.

Finally, they called Ken Taylor, Planning and Development Officer at the County of Mountain View. He called Red Deer and "convinced them that an inspector should be sent out," he said. "There's more going on here than just a routine complaint and there was one concern about the fireplace that seemed to go against code. I thought Alberta Labour had an obligation to make sure it meets code," he added.

The Janzens feel that they purchased a permit and the issuing office must take some responsibility to insure it meets standards. "We got the permit from them and they should back it. Our taxes are to the rafters out here and we get less service than anyone else," Sharon said.

Morrison accepts the responsibility but also maintains that quality control is not their mandate and that their back log of building plans submitted for permits was too great to send someone out to inspect the Janzen's fireplace. "We have to prioritize and we have people waiting to start construction and we're holding them up until we issue the permit," he said.

He went on to indicate that he had mailed all the appropriate code standards to the Janzens and suggested they hire an independent engineer to back their court case. "We can only review the project as it pertains to the code where an engineer could attest to shoddy workmanship," he said.

Alberta Labour and Safety finally agreed to send out an inspector but Morrison believes that there is a misconception about their role in the matter. "The problem is still focused between the Janzens and the contractor, we can only pass judgement on whether code has been met. The rest is for a judge to decide," he said.

Meanwhile, back at the Janzen household, frustration is the word of the day. They have had two other bricklayers and an engineer look at the fireplace and have begun looking for someone to tear it down. "It's a total mess and I've had to make a lot of phone calls and write a lot of letters to get this far. We just want to get on with the job," said Sharon Janzen.

She finally got some satisfaction from Alberta Labour and she'll still have her day in court.

Who's going to dust all those trophies, Bill?

By Elaine Wilson

Local bronc buster Bill Boyd moseyed back into town last week with over $13,000.00 in prize money and bonuses along with an armload of trophies and belt buckles to add to his collection after winning the 1992 Canadian Bareback Championship in Edmonton earlier in the month. On December 2 he'll be heading to Las Vegas to compete in the prestigious NFR (National Finals Rodeo).

After 10 years of competition, 30-year-old Bill Boyd has emerged from the pack to become one of the best in the world, amassing a staggering collection of trophies and prizes along the way. His trophies line an entire wall, although it's likely that one or two may belong to his younger brother Albert, who's also a bareback ace. He credits fellow riders for a large part of his success. "It's been a combination of everybody I've travelled and rodeoed with. The rest of the guys help you out," Boyd says.

Rodeo cowboys are a breed apart. In the big money rounds, one wrong move in a few fleeting seconds can cost precious points and major dollars. But instead of hoarding inside knowledge on mounts and judges, riders routinely share every trick and hint they know with each other to insure everyone takes off out of the shoot equally prepared.

A decade of hard work and constant travel is now paying off handsomely for Boyd who won a total of $41,585.00 on both sides of the border in 1991. To date in 1992 he's already amassed over $60,000.00 and if he continues his current winning ways he could take home half that much again from Las Vegas in prize money and bonuses.

"A lot of good bareback riders are quite hard on their bodies," Olds resident and long-time rodeo enthusiast Harold Perrin claims. Perrin has tracked Boyd's riding career from the beginning and feels the young cowboy not only has what it takes to go all the way, but to go all the way with style. "Bill rides smooth. He's sitting in the middle of the horse's back a little more. Beginners ride with a straight leg. You've got to have a good arm and good balance. He knows those horses, he knows those horses' moves."

Boyd's strong suit is his consistency according to Perrin, who feels that will serve him well in Las Vegas. "He's only been bucked off once in eight years. I'm looking for him to do well. It depends so much on what horses he draws, but I would really figure he'll place well."

Modestly, Boyd declines to speculate on his prospects in Las Vegas beyond saying simply that he'll be doing his best. "I don't know how I'd rate my chances. I just hope I ride well and that I draw good horses."

It's been a long time coming, but Bill Boyd's persistence has paid off. He holds the Canadian Bareback title and is currently ranked at number 6 in the world. Fingers are crossed all across the county that he'll continue his winning streak and climb even higher in the standings in Las Vegas.

Gayle Yoos has known Bill Boyd since he was just a youngster. Having followed his progress from the outset, Yoos is gratified by his recent breakthroughs. "He's been at it for years," she notes, "and he's finally made it to the top. I think it's a real feather in his cap for him and for his community. I really think it should make the whole community proud that he's from Olds."

Pet/Santa pics raise cash

The Canadian Federation of Humane Societies (CFHS) and participating animal shelters across Canada are gearing up for the third annual "Pet Pics With Santa" fundraiser. Jointly sponsored by Polaroid Canada Inc. and Effem Foods Ltd., the makers of Whiskas® and Pedigree®, this unique promotion raised close to $100,000 last year for homeless and abused animals.

During the months of November and December, shelters raise money by taking instant photographs of pets with Santa Claus. Polaroid provides film, customer-printed mounts and cameras at greatly reduced rates. Whiskas® and Pedigree® do their part by supplying free of charge cat and dog "goody bags." Instead of the traditional candy cane, pet owners who purchase a photo receive Christmas themed bags containing samples of food for dogs and cats, pet care booklets and Christmas cards.

Pet owners numbering in the thousands have turned out for this event, usually with cats and dogs in tow. However, it has been reported that animals such as ferrets, birds and rabbits have also come out to have their pictures taken with Santa. The growing support over the past two years has contributed to increased awareness of shelter activities and according to Frances Rodenburg, Executive Director, CFHS, "We hope to make 'Pet Pics With Santa' even bigger and better this year."

Frances Rodenburg added, "The CFHS and its sponsors appreciate the generous support of the public in helping us to help these animals."

Pet lovers interested in getting pictures taken and helping out animal shelters can participate at the Parkland Humane Society at 7690 - 45 Avenue, Red Deer.

Fantasy bus available for students

Further to the three-year joint agreement Sun-Rype Products Ltd. and Greyhound Lines of Canada entered into in January 1992, Greyhound has provided Sun-Rype with a coach for special field trips. Named the "Sun-Rype Fantasy Bus," it will take students from elementary schools in Western Canada on educational "Fantasy Field Trips" with the first one scheduled to take place in Calgary in January 1993.

Brightly painted with Sun-Rype juices and bottles of Sparklers carbonated beverages placed among fresh fruit, the coach will run on Greyhound's regular InterCity Express route and will be utilized during off-peak times of the year as needed for the field trips.

"This initiative is in keeping with the 'Quality Driven' campaign both Sun-Rype and Greyhound established as part of our three-year agreement," said Lawrence Bates, Sun-Rype's vice-president of marketing and sales. "We approached school boards in Calgary with our 'Fantasy Field Trips' proposal and based on their positive response, proceeded with the plan. Our objective is to make the trips available to children who would otherwise not have the opportunity to enjoy them. They will be educational in nature and where possible. Sun-Rype will try to tie them in with the regular school curriculum."

Sun-Rype and Greyhound entered into the joint agreement with Sun-Rype providing juice and granola bars over three years, distributed to passengers travelling on Greyhound's InterCity Express trips.

"This partnership we have with Greyhound is proving to be beneficial for both our companies," Bates said. "We believe this program will have a positive impact on both the schools and the community while providing children with an educational adventure on the Sun-Rype Fantasy Bus."

Ramblers weekend sweep propels them to first

The Didsbury Senior Ramblers Hockey Club, by virtue of a strong weekend performance, find themselves atop the Chinook Hockey League standings as of November 24.

Victories over Olds Elks on Saturday night and visiting Hobemma Oilers on Sunday afternoon find the Ramblers with a 4 and 2 record early in the league schedule.

Ramblers Coach Alan McCoy was extremely pleased with the performance of the team on the weekend and comments that hopefully the team will use these wins as a stepping stone to build on in future games.

Saturday night saw the Ramblers travel to Olds for their first match-up of the season against the defending league champion Elks.

The Ramblers played a tight checking game that saw neither team take many penalties in a back and forth contest that was close throughout.

Olds was first to capitalize by scoring twice in the first period to take a 2-0 lead into the dressing room after the first period.

Didsbury continued to press for opportunities in the second and were rewarded when Gary Smith scored to close the gap to 2-1 in favor of the Elks after 2 periods.

The Olds Elks were clearly the dominant team in the third period outshooting the Ramblers 14-9, however, strong goaltending by netminder Ross Parslow enabled the Ramblers to stay close until a goal by Greg Crawford at the 16:19 mark of the third boosted the Ramblers into a tie.

The game turned interesting when Rambler Scott Fisher was tagged with a roughing minor with 1 minute and 45 seconds to go in the game and the Elks pressing, however, Olds winger Clay Rockwell was to take a costly slashing penalty at the 19:46 mark of the 3rd to even things up sending the Ramblers into their second consecutive overtime contest of the season.

Rookie Scott Bain would prove to be the hero taking a pass from centre Darren Dallas to fire a high shot over goaltender Todd Vader 40 seconds into overtime giving the Ramblers the victory, 3-2.

"Exceptional goaltending, as well as a strong effort on behalf of the team enabled us to prevail against the larger Elks hockey club," commented Coach McCoy.

Shots on goal in the contest favoured Olds 15-11, 18-8, and 14-9 by periods, however, the only shot that counted in overtime was by the Ramblers, commented Manager Larry Tennant.

Sunday afternoon saw the visiting Hobemma Oilers delayed by weather and the scheduled 1:30 game not starting till 2:15 with the Rambler fans and players anxious to avenge an earlier setback at the hands of the Oilers.

The Ramblers were quick out of the starting gate continually peppering the Hobemma goalie with close chances till Dave Wobschall opened scoring on a powerplay 4 minutes and 9 seconds into the game on assists from Alan Shields, and Jamie Jensen.

The Ramblers jumped out to a shortlived 2-0 lead as Darcy McQuire on a fine individual effort would score, while both teams were a man short.

Hobemma responded with an even strength marker at the 13 minute mark, and a shorthanded effort just over 3 minutes later to tie the score at 2-2 with both goals being scored by Alan Stashko.

Ramblers outshot the Oilers 18-10 and could have been up by at least 2 or 3 goals if not for the exceptional goaltending of Hobemma netminder Darryl Buffalo.

A wild second period saw both teams with excellent scoring chances, however, the much practiced Rambler penalty killers took the spotlight, scoring 2 shorthanded goals while adding an even strength marker to take a 5-2 lead into the dressing room after 2 periods.

Scoring for the Ramblers was Brent Youngs, Darren Dallas, and Dave Wobschall (with his second of the evening) drawing assists were Darcy McQuire, Jamie Jensen, Scott Fisher, and Dave Wobschall.

Shots on goal in the second period favored Hobemma 16-15 and had Didsbury leading 34-25 after 2 periods.

Memories of the previous weekend, where the Ramblers would blow a 6-2 lead in the third period, were fresh in the minds of the fans and players alike, and when Hobemma scored 4 minutes into the third one could almost feel the anguish of another missed opportunity echo throughout the stands, but the Ramblers, fresh off a disciplinary practice by Coach McCoy, were full credit for not letting up, and finished off the Oilers with continual forchecking and a tight defensive effort, while scoring twice more to win 7-3.

Scoring for the Ramblers in the third were Scott Fisher, and Bryan Latimer with assists going to Jamie Jensen, Dave Wobschall, Darren Dallas, and Hal Schiffner.

Final shots on goal were 44-36 in favor of the Ramblers and "another strong performance by Rambler netminder Marty Krebs reinforced the solid one-two combination that the Ramblers have in net with Krebs and Parslow sharing the goaltending load this season," said Manager Larry Tennant.

Next Rambler action at home is Saturday November 28 with the Ramblers hosting Big Valley Oil Kings.

Rambler game board winners for Sunday were Greg Pender, Larry Tennant, and a blank to be shared by minor hockey. Just a reminder that there are still spots available on the board for interested parties and they should contact players or executive.

Cremona minor hockey news

By Ryan Robertson

This week I feature a team which has fun and gives their best effort all the time for their love of hockey--the Dynamites. This year the team is coached by Terry Marciniak and along with his Assistant James Watt. The two combine to bring experience to a team of predominantly first year players.

Managing the troops are Bruce Kay and Lee Rogers. As usual this season, the games are exciting and probably create more cheering than other levels. As I watched the game today, I couldn't help but look to the future and all the possibilities that are created because our youngsters today have the advantage of artificial ice and a closed-in building and regular ice times. It suddenly takes away the attitude that some people had that no one from small towns has a chance to ever make it beyond that town in hockey.

To see those happy faces through that cage says it all. In today's game J.D. Watt scored with assists going to Bo Marr and Jed Ayre. Last week I missed a big assist to Jeremy Zinter on Bo Marr's goal in Crossfield. Well done all of you!

This year's team is comprised of: Jed Ayre, Kelly Broadhurst, Shawn Fitzgerald, Cody Hagen, Christopher Kay, Chase Kinch, Myles Marcinick, Ryan Riches, Cody Rogers, J.D. Watt, Kyle Wig, Bowen Marr, Shawn Oldfield, Andrew Plante, Colin Ryan, Jesse Shurmen, and Jeremy Zinter. Good luck the rest of the way!

Ounces for thought

There's a time and a place to be drinking,
And EVERY time sure isn't it,
Sports winners know well when to party,
While losers don't know when to quit.

Life's glass holds the same for all athletes,
Each person is given one voice,
Abuse is too much of a good thing,
Boils down to a matter of choice.

Nobody MAKES anyone do it,
Regardless of challenge or taunts,
The bottom line fact is quite simply,
Each person can do what he wants.

That's why some drink on the pro side,
While others imbibe on the con,
But one thing is clear for all athletes,
YOU choose which drink side you are on.

Just don't blame the coach or the players,
Your family or League you are in,
The answer is right in the mirror,
Talk to it about you, lose or win.

Southwest Didsbury news

By Bessie Eckstrand

Sympathy of the area is extended to Helen Clayton and two daughters Catharine McFarquhar and family as husband and father Ed passed away November 11 at his new home in College Green, Didsbury. Funeral was held Nov. 16 at Knox United Church with Dr. Ken Jordan officiating with burial in Didsbury Cemetery. Knox U.C.W. served lunch for family and friends.

Ed farmed in area since 1945 when he and Helen purchased the Ed Wilson farm 2 miles west of Didsbury. Ed was a lover of his farm, flowers, green house, wood carving, music and enjoyed visiting with relatives and friends. He will be sadly missed in the area.

Also sympathy of the area is extended to Brian and Heather Forestell and family as Uncle Frank Rippl of Edmonton passed away Nov. 17 in the George McKenzie Health Centre (part of the University Hospital). Uncle Frank was only 57 years old and had a losing battle with cancer for the last 4 months. He had just retired and he and wife had made so many plans for the future, but it wasn't to be. He will be sadly missed by wife, relatives and friends.

Many relatives and friends (350) enjoyed an evening on Oct. 17, at the Didsbury Complex helping celebrate John and Freda Shearer of Carstairs their 55th wedding anniversary.

Following the open house, son Gavin as M.C. opened the program with a musical life commentary by part of the Kitchen Band; Joyce Williams, Doreen Allen and Verna Allenspack of Carstairs. All enjoyed this very much. M.C. introduced the family. The Bowden Band played for the evening's dancing pleasure and Henry's Bakery of Olds catered a delicious lunch ending an evening of fun for everyone.

John was born in Scotland, came to Canada in 1929 with his family and four sisters and settled on a farm south west of Carstairs in the Madden district. Freda was born in Three Hills on a farm north of Morrin and came to Carstairs in 1932 to be with her paternal grandmother. They met at a dance in July of 1935 where she had gone with his sister Martha Darling. They were married in 1937 and a year later son Gavin was born. John worked at various farms before enlisting in the Army.

John is and was always interested in sports and especially football, but now fishing is his main interest, and along with dancing.

After John went overseas, Freda moved to town and worked at various places in town. She moved next door to Fred McKay, where Joyce (McKay) Williams was living with her uncle and grandma and went to high school. Freda and Joyce always managed several evenings a week playing piano and violin. They met Cliff Eckstrand and Bill Tohm at Sunnyslope School (still standing west of Shell Gas Plant west of Carstairs), when they were playing for a dance. Thus began many years of musical association and started the Melody 5 Orchestra with Willard Franklin joining on the drums. They played for a lot of benefit dances for funds to send parcels overseas, building memorials at end of war, reconditioning Madden Hall and putting in electric lights, etc.

Everyone wished John and Freda many more years of health and happiness, bringing to a close a lovely evening.

Birthday Club Christmas Supper was held the evening of Nov. 18 at the lovely home of Susie and Frank Neufeld and 34 neighbors enjoyed the turkey potluck supper and playing croquinoles. Frank is recovering from both of his knees being operated on. Best wishes Frank and Susie.

Knox U.C.W. Tea and Bazaar and Bake Sale held Saturday, Nov. 14 was most successful and it's nice to see people from various Didsbury churches enjoying the fellowship and browsing at the various tables of handicraft.

Is winter really here? We've had such nice weather, but roads have been treacherous, with several accidents of overturned vehicles and cars in the ditch. Be careful people and enjoy the winter.

The Didsbury
Review

Columbus—the encounter

This is the ninth installment in a series of stories based on the voyage of Christopher Columbus, famed for the discovery of the Americas. 1992 is the 500th anniversary of the voyage. To mark the occasion, The Review will publish, every two weeks until December, stories detailing the trip and how it impacted on life here—in the new world.

Part IX

By Ron Tyler

A firsthand account of Europe's earliest colonization of the Americas is given in a slender book titled "The Devastation of the Indies" by Bartolome de Las Casas.

In 1512, he became the first priest to be ordained in the New World. He was an acquaintance of Cortes and Pizarro. He accompanied Velasquez on the conquest of Cuba. He was himself an encomendero for 8 years before taking his religious vows.

Las Casas is a major source for the descriptions of the almost unbelievable abuses committed by his fellow Europeans against the indigenous population.

In 1552, after 40 years of witnessing countless acts of brutality in the new Spanish colonies, Las Casas published the book, an eyewitness account of the first modern genocide. He states—"It would be hard to make anyone believe, and harder still to narrate, the infamous deeds in all their details."

Let's listen to him.

"... of all the infinite universe of humanity, these people are the most guileless, the most devoid of wickedness and duplicity. ... They are by nature the most humble, patient and peaceable, holding no grudges, free from embroilments, neither excitable nor quarrelsome. These people are the most devoid of rancors, hatreds, or desire for vengeance of any people in the world."

"Yet into this land of meek outcasts, there came some Spaniards who immediately behaved like ravening wild beast... killing, terrorizing, afflicting, torturing and destroying the native peoples, doing all this with the strangest and most varied new methods of cruelty, never seen or heard of before, and to such a degree that this Island of Hispaniola, once so populous (having a population that I estimated to be more than 3,000,000), has now a population of barely 200 persons."

"We can estimate very surely and truthfully that in the 40 years that have passed, with the infernal actions of the Christians, there have been unjustly slain more than 12,000,000 men, women and children. In truth, I believe without trying to deceive myself, that the number of the slain is more like 15,000,000."

Scholars now emphasize a different cause, other than war and slavery, for most of the Indian devastation; the viruses and microbes that the Spanish introduced in the New World. The consensus now is that they apparently were the real killers. Whatever the causes, as we have seen, the eventual destruction was catastrophic.

December 25, 1492... "I assure your Highness that I believe that in all the world there is no better people nor better country. They love their neighbours as themselves, and they have the sweetest talk in them, and are gentle and always laughing." Christopher Columbus.

(Ron Tyler is a grade 4 teacher at the Ross Ford Elementary School in Didsbury and a history buff.)

Five-0 notes

Winter activities are well underway and progressing smoothly.

Wednesday afternoon attendance has been increasing. We still could use more bridge players. A game table has been donated to the club so you could play checkers if you don't play cards.

Nurse Pat Bird has asked that people be reminded of the health clinic held the third Tuesday of every month. You don't have to be a member to attend the clinic. It is from 9:30 to 11 a.m. No appointments necessary.

The next potluck dinner will be Dec. 9th at 1 p.m. No meat will be supplied. Come and enjoy the fellowship and the entertainment.

Didsbury library news

The Didsbury Library Art Gallery is now featuring oil paintings by Horace Betteridge. Horace, a retired construction worker, moved to Didsbury four years ago. He started painting at the age of 65 years in his home studio. Horace has had no formal training in art and finds his inspiration in both people and nature. His works featured at the library are Fading Light, Sisters, Interested Parties, and two untitled paintings. This is certainly an exhibition worth seeing; it will be at the library (next to town office) until December 10th. Library hours are Tuesday to Saturday, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. (Fridays till 6:00).

Bancroft W.I. news

By E. Page

The Bancroft Women's Institute gathered at the home of Mary McCulloch and Jean Lust at 12 noon on Nov. 9 to enjoy our ethnic dinner. Some members brought a new dish, while some brought an old favorite. Lots of tasty dishes!

Our meeting was called to order at 1:30 with opening ceremonies and singing, "You Are My Sunshine." Roll call was to wear a poppy and recall an interesting ethnic event or meal.

We each put 12 cents into our A.C.W.W. jar—11 cents for Remembrance Day and 1 cent for All Saints Day.

Seven of our quilts we had made were given to the Battered Women's Shelter and the one afghan was given to the Didsbury Hospital.

Marge Fisher and June Lore will do the hospital visit this month. Ten copies of "Federated News" will be ordered again this year.

The 40th anniversary reunion of Midway School was discussed and a committee will be set up to work towards this event in 1994. Several of our members offered to sit on this committee.

Minutes of the executive meeting were given. District Convention will be held in the Crowchild Inn on March 2 and 3.

Our local Conference will be held at Mountain View Hall in the spring. The specials from each of the four branches will be the best of sewing, the best of knitting, the best of cross-stitch and a crocheted centrepiece. Check with your local handicraft convenor for the numbers included in these.

The spring executive meeting will be hosted by North Lone Pine. Elsie Brander gave her Home Ec. paper, she chose "Calcium Is For Everyone." We all need calcium to build strong bones, no matter what your age you need calcium. This is particularly true for women. Enough calcium helps protect you from cancer of the bone and colon. If you are like most Canadians, you probably aren't getting enough. Chose dairy products often and use low fat products. Check the labels. Non fat dry milk powder can be used in meat dishes and in casseroles. Salmon and sardines with the bones are good too. Getting your calcium from food instead of tablets is better for you unless you are allergic to dairy products.

Catherine McNaughtan had the bit of fun which was a contest on parts of the body, which was won by Pat VanTetering.

Elsie Brander had the lucky plate.

Council has sent the matter to the town recreation board for further review and recommendations.

Didsbury town council has made a counter offer to a potential buyer of the Fire Department's old tanker.

The offer comes after discussion on the purchase of a new tanker for the Department.

Council had been looking into the purchase of the new tanker earlier this year and had advertised for the sale of the one currently used. An offer from the Manville/Innisfree Fire Association of $15,000 had originally been rejected.

But council still feels a deal can be worked out with Manville/

Innisfree and has sent in a counter offer of $20,000.

If accepted, the proceeds will go towards the purchase of the new tanker.

Discussion on purchase of the tanker, a $124,000 machine from Red Deer chosen from 4 possibilities compiled by the Fire Department, has been tabled until council's December 1 meeting. Council will meet with the County of Mountain View Rural Fire Protection Association before then in the hopes of soliciting their financial support for the purchase.

Didsbury town council has passed a by-law setting new water and sewer rates for 1993.

The rates will reflect an increase in water costs associated

RCMP request assistance

Didsbury RCMP are asking for help from residents in solving a serious rash of vandalism this summer.

In a press release issued from the detachment last week, RCMP said they need help to locate people responsible for damaging grass areas and golf carts at the Didsbury Golf Club during the months of July, August and September.

Vandals stole into the club 5 separate times during those months and each time took 2 to 3 carts for joy rides, damaging the carts and fields around the course.

Damage to the carts, which were both private and club-owned, and to the fields, totals more than $22,000.

Police said anyone with information on the crimes is asked to contact Crime Stoppers at 1-800-342-TIPS (8477). Callers remain anonymous and can receive cash rewards for information leading to the arrest of those responsible.

with the purchase of the Anthony Henday water treatment plant recently undertaken by the Mountain View Regional Water Services Commission.

The Commission has increased water costs to municipalities serviced by the water line to $5.50 per 10 cubic meters from $3.85/10m3.

Didsbury water prices will increase $1 for the basic 3,000 gallons and $.80 for each additional 1,000 gallons.

Sewer rates were not increased under this new by-law. An increase in those rates had been made last spring after construction of new sewer lines in the town.

The new price structure takes effect on January 1, 1993.

The Way of Life

Anticipating Christmas
By James Miller, Pastor
West Zion Mennonite Church

The Advent season begins this Sunday and in it we anticipate the celebration of the coming of Jesus Christ; God coming into our world as a human being.

The prophets had long been predicting the coming of Christ and they were longing for the hope and peace that He would bring into the world at that time. God had been making preparations and at exactly the right time Jesus Christ was born.

The Gospels tell the wonderful story of Jesus' life and how He was so concerned for people with needs wherever He met them. He always met their needs if they really wanted Him to do so. In the end He gave the ultimate gift, the gift of His life.

Today we are living in a time when we need a fresh supply of hope and peace. It seems that the world is so full of problems and suffering caused by wars, famine, unemployment, crime, sickness or any number of other causes. But there is hope and there is the prospect of peace and that is why Jesus Christ came.

As we enter the Advent season, I trust that we will focus on the real meaning of the coming of Jesus as it was so well expressed by Charles Wesley 250 years ago in a verse he wrote:

"Come, thou long expected

Jesus!
born to set thy people free,
from our fears and sins release
us,
let us find our rest in thee."

Peter Youngren comes to Red Deer

Starting November 22, 1992 at 6:00 p.m. to November 24, 1992, Word Of Life Centre will be the site of a large "Miracle Explosion," a 3-day crusade with Canadian Evangelist, Peter Youngren.

For the past 10 years, Rev. Peter Youngren has taught millions in over 30 different nations, the secrets of life, love, health, happiness and success with God.

Recently, this summer Youngren ministered face to face to over 1,000,000 people in Russia. In every city, in every state, they have seen the largest crowds in history gather.

Youngren has helped millions rise from guilt and weakness, sin and fear, sickness and inferiority, to strength and faith, health and self-esteem.

He believes the gospel is for the whole man. Christ came not only to meet man's spiritual needs, but also his social, physical, and emotional needs.

It is a normal occurrence during Youngren crusades for people to experience physical healings. Many born blind, hopelessly crippled, or totally deaf have been instantaneously and miraculously cured. There have been numerous miraculous recoveries from almost every imaginable disease such as arthritis, heart trouble, diabetes and cancer, just to mention a few.

Many are believing that this crusade will have an unprecedented impact on Red Deer and Central Alberta. Everyone, regardless of creed, color, or religion is invited to Word Of Life Centre at 7:15 p.m. each night. Also, Tuesday, November 24, 1992 Youngren will be guest speaker at a succeed luncheon at noon at Killian's Restaurant. Cost is $10.00 per person.

Horse stress featured at conference

Anyone raising or training horses will be interested in hearing one of the featured speakers at the 1993 Horse Owners and Breeders Conference in Red Deer January 16 and 17.

Karyn Malinowski is an extension equine specialist at Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey. "Her main topic is how horses handle stress," says Bob Coleman, an Alberta Agriculture provincial horse specialist. "With an emphasis on the young horse during weaning and early training."

Malinowski is one of 15 internationally recognized speakers on the conference program. They will discuss a variety of topics of interest to horse owners and breeders.

"This conference has developed into the premier conference in North America dedicated to the horse," notes Coleman.

The conference offers sessions in specific streams for Thoroughbred, Arabian and Quarter Horse owners and breeders, as well as an all-breeds program. A wide range of topics on the conference agenda include reproduction, athletic performance, economics and promotion.

The registration rate is $75 per person, or $125 for two people from the same farm. For registration, or other information, contact Les Burwash in Calgary at 297-6650, or Coleman in Edmonton at 427-8906.
